Recommendations implemented:

- Replace disposable tasting spoons, cups, bowls, cutlery and condiment cups with reusable dishware for on-site dining
- Offer napkins in a self-serve dispenser
- Make straws available upon request only
- Ask before giving customers disposable items like utensil and napkins for to-go orders

Jena and her staff implemented all of the ReThink Disposable recommendations with great success! Working together, the Sacred Wheel team was able to split up the dish washing responsibilities without adding any extra staff time. This kept costs low and allowed Sacred Wheel to recover the full savings from reduced disposable purchases. In addition to these savings, Sacred Wheel was able to reduce waste hauling costs. Customers love the changes and were glad to see Sacred Wheel being proactive about waste reduction.

Packaging Practices prior to ReThink Disposable:

- All food and beverages were served on disposable food service ware
- Customers were always given disposable utensils and napkins when ordering food to go without being asked if they needed them
- Customers were always given a lid and straw for drinks
- Disposable tasting spoons were used for samples

Jena, the co-owner of Sacred Wheel, had switched to compostable disposable packaging, because she thought this was the best thing to do for the environment. However, she found out that the compostable plastics Sacred Wheel was using to serve food and beverages couldn’t be composted in Oakland and were instead being sent to the landfill. Jena reconsidered and realized that real dishes were the best option for Sacred Wheel and are also more eco-friendly.

Jena Davidson, Co-owner: “By switching from expensive recyclable and compostable packaging to real dishes, I was able to save money and do the best thing for the environment. And right away customers started commenting on how happy they are with the changes!”
